

Caversham Bridge

This is Caversham Bridge in 1911

And this is Caversham Bridge in 2011

Can you see the difference???????

In 1869 the bridge was knocked down and rebuilt into an iron bridge but in 1923 it was rebuilt again replaced with what it looks like now.

Caversham Bridge was reopened properly in 1926 by Prince Edward of Wales.

Caversham Bridge is currently made of concrete and granite.

It is 15 feet high.
